

"My Passion is... to help our company provide outstanding client service, to assist small businesses on the road to success and to equip individuals to better manage their financial resources."

Debbie Angello
Business Manager and Money Coach

Debbie Angello is responsible for all elements of financial, legal and general business management for Bright Tree Consulting Group, LLC. She also manages the small business start-up support practice for the company.

Debbie developed her in-depth business management skills in a series of accounting and finance roles over a 25 year career. She is a thoughtful and pragmatic manager who knows how to get things done.

Debbie has worked in a variety of firms including public accounting, the Fortune 500 and her specialty, start-ups. She established the accounting and finance functions for three different firms over her career, directing them from launch to fully functional. She is a gifted multi-tasker with a solutions-oriented approach to her work.

Debbie earned her bachelor's degree in business economics from the University of Pittsburgh. She resides in Lancaster, Pennsylvania with her husband and three children. She enjoys helping others to improve their financial planning and life management skills. She is an avid reader and gifted gardener.